LITTLE ROCK WHITES FORCIBLY EJECT NEGRO FAMILY FROM HOUSE

(Preston News Service)

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 17.—Rabid white residents of the 1300 block of Rock St. assembled last Thursday night and forcibly ejected a family of Negroes from a house in that block. The property is said to be owned by Gustav Breitke, vice-president of the Oaklawn Dairy Co.

About 8 o'clock George Cope appeared at police headquarters and inquired of the sergeant how much it would cost to plead guilty of fighting.

He explained that he and his neighbors had protested to Breitke against renting the property in that neighborhood to Negroes. A heated discussion followed and Cope admitted that he knocked down Breitke.

Cope was advised to return home and wait until complaint was made.

About midnight the owner of the property complained that several men were attacking his Negro tenants. The police went to the scene but said that the evacuation had been effected when they arrived. Breitke has sworn out a warrant against Cope and others.

TION ASKS GOV. TO EXTEND ROSS' REPRIEVE

(Preston News Service.)

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 17.—For the second time within a fortnight the Cleveland Federated Colored Women's clubs Thursday presented an eleventh-hour plea to Governor Donahoe to save Emmanuel Ross, Cleveland's boy slayer, from going to his death in the electric chair Friday night.

Mrs. Letha Fleming, wife of the councilman, and president of the Cleveland Federated Colored Women's clubs, sought a recommendation from Common Pleas Judge Walter McMahon to the governor to save Ross. McMahon refused, declaring he had no course other than to follow the recommendation of the jury that found Ross guilty of murdering Isidore Steech, grocer.

Mrs. Fleming went to Columbus to seek the commutation for Ross to a life sentence. Governor Donahoe, following a refusal by McMahon to reopen the case here, already has declared he would not save Ross.

START BIG SUITS ON WOMAN'S ESTATE

(Preston News Service.)

Henderson, N. C., Sept. 17.—An aggregate sum of more than $30,000 is sought by Vance county and the City of Henderson from the estate of the late Melissa Townes, in suits separately by the city and county in Vance county superior court last week for recover of taxes, forfeitures and penalties which it is alleged have not been paid. The estate of the woman was said to be worth around $30,000, more than $25,000 of which was in cash on deposit in the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, a Negro bank, in Durham.

The county is seeking $2,634.83 in alleged unpaid taxes which it claims have not been paid, and in addition to that sum is asking for $14,210 in forfeitures on property not listed. The city's suit is for slightly less than that on account of the difference in the tax rate, which was less for the city than the county.

It is claimed that the woman had extensive property in this city which she did not list for taxation over a period of six years, and that the money on deposit in the Durham bank was never listed for taxation. The cases have both been docketed in superior court, and, if reached will be tried at the October term, which is presided over by Judge Thomas H. Calvert, of Raleigh.

PITTSBURGH SINGER GOING ABROAD FOR TWO YEARS' VOICE CULTURE

(Preston News Service)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 17.—Ralph E. Banks, brother of Miss Ruth Banks, the accomplished pianist, has received considerable praise from local white musical critics through the white press. Burt McMurrie, writing in the Pittsburgh Press calls Banks "Pittsburgh's Hayes".

McMurrie says in part: "The heading Pittsburgh's Hayes is a bit mawkish, and yet in speaking of Ralph E. Banks, Negro tenor, one immediately associates his position in the musical field with that of Hayes who has risen to a position of eminence in the concert field during the last three years."

Banks is a young singer, a former pupil of McClurg Miller, under whom he learned the first essentials of good singing. Following his work with Miller he went to New York where he studied with Charles Tamm, who possesses a tenor voice of rich, warm quality, a tone that is at once lovely and entirely masculine. There is imagination in his reading and color to his singing.

The singer leaves this fall for Italy where he will spend the next two years in study. One feels that Banks will do much to increase the respect that Hayes has already raised to such a high degree toward the seriousness of the Negro voice.

MINISTERS' UNION FLAYS MOB RULE

Local Body Condemns Wytheville Mobbing and Kidnapping of Priest

A resolution deprecating the kidnapping of Father Vincent D. Warren, Roman Catholic priest, at Norfolk, on September 1, and the lynching of Raymond Bird, colored, at Wytheville on August 15, was unanimously adopted by the Richmond Ministerial Union, representing the Protestant churches of the city, at its opening fall meeting September 13, at the Central Y. M. C. A. The resolution follows:

"From the reports in the public press touching the action of persons unknown, in Princess Anne county, in interfering by physical force with a Roman Catholic clergyman in the discharge of a service to a school of a colored race, and also in respect to the lynching by a mob at Wytheville."

"Be it resolved, That we, the Ministerial Union of Richmond, deprecate such conduct as being a violation of the rights of free citizens and of religious liberty, and view these actions as a reflection upon the state of Virginia, and hereby express our sincere regret that such actions occurred."

W. H. Stansell, president of the Business Men's Evangelistic Club, outlined the work of his organization before the union and expressed the desire of the club to cooperate with the churches in the city-wide evangelistic campaign next March.

Rev. Dr. W. S. Campbell called the attention of the union to the fact that the question of opening the city playgrounds on Sunday would come up again before city council, and the matter was referred to the committee on Sunday observance.

Dr. A. B. Rudd, Northern Baptist missionary to Mexico, addressed the union on "The Mexican situation." Dr. Rudd contended that the Mexican government is treating all denominations alike, and that there is no persecution in Mexico.

National Ideal Society.

"If your race is to rise to the heights of which I think it capable, it must do so by its own strength. In the past 56 years, in the face of adverse circumstances, it has produced great lawyers, judges, doctors, artists and inventors, but if I am to judge from the reports I've heard today, the singing of this audience, and the intelligence which I see manifested in your countenances I must conclude that you will make still greater progress in the next 56 years."

Hon. S. B. Hart, one of the two Negro representatives in the Pennsylvania State Legislature, praised Mr. Holmes for having had the vision to see the need of such an organization, and Magistrate Edward W. Henry said, "I will gladly do my hat to any man who can bring and hold together 33,000 of our people in a single organization for their mutual benefit and uplift."

The address of Supreme Master A. W. Holmes was a masterpiece of fraternal philosophy. It showed that he is thoroughly familiar with most of the problems which perplex the officers of subordinate lodges, the district deputies, and the Supreme Officers; that he is ever watchful to protect the good name of the National Ideal Benefit Society as a whole; and that he has a clear vision of the possibilities of its future. He showed that in 14 years the Society had built up a membership of 33,000 persons, extended its activities to all parts of Virginia as well as to Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia, and that it has accumulated assets in excess of $60,000. This address was roundly applauded by officers and members of the Society.

The reports of the Supreme Secretary, Mrs. M. S. Payne; Supreme Treasurer, Mr. T. L. Beverly; and the Supreme Auditors, Mrs. Alma Chapman and Mr. L. C. White showed that the business of the order is in a high state of efficiency, every penny collected and expended being properly accounted for. In addition bank books and other books of account were open to inspection to any member who might desire to do so. The reports from the field showed that enthusiasm runs high throughout the Brotherhood and that the subordinate lodges are vying with each other in bringing in new members.

The hearts of the officers and members of the Society were saddened when a telegram was read from Mrs. Cora L. Jenkins and Mrs. Daisy L. Cook of Newport News, stating that the automobile in which they were riding had gone over an embankment near Baltimore, Md. and that several of their party were hurt. The convention voted to send them a proper letter of sympathy.

RECREATIONAL FEATURES.

On Wednesday afternoon the delegates were invited to inspect the great Elverson Building, the home of the Philadelphia Inquirer, said to be the largest and best equipped newspaper plant in the world. Here they were met at the door by officials of the plant, furnished with guides who showed them through the plant and who showed them every courtesy in explaining details of the work of this great institution. The plant itself cost $7,000,000. The daily circulation of the Inquirer is 300,000 while the Sunday circulation is 700,000.

On the following day the delegates visited the offices of the Philadelphia Tribune and was shown through the plant from cellar to garret. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw. On that same afternoon the Philadelphia Committee of the National Ideal Benefit Society, headed by Mrs. Maude A. Morrisett and Mrs. Ellen B. Taylor took the delegation in buses on a sight-seeing trip thru the city, which included a circle of the Sequoy-Centennial Grounds, a view of the principal business and residential sections of the city and the Great $40,000,000 Bridge across the Delaware River.

The next meeting will be held in Washington, D. C.
